About the Los Angeles Police Memorial Foundation (LAPMF)

For more than 50 years, the Los Angeles Police Memorial Foundation (LAPMF) has stood as a trusted and mission-driven organization dedicated to supporting the families of fallen and catastrophically injured LAPD officers. Established in 1972 by LAPD leadership and community visionaries, the Foundation has provided over $20 million in financial, educational, and crisis assistance to officers and their families.

LAPMF's mission is clear and enduring: to honor the sacrifice of LAPD officers by providing immediate and long-term support to their families. Through funeral assistance, merit-based scholarships, catastrophic illness grants, and other programs, the Foundation delivers meaningful, life-changing support when it is needed most.
